EVER THE LAND

[DVDA291-001B] 1 x 90 minutes | 2015 | $DVD A: 255/ — $DVD B: 100/

Cat: Architecture, Aboriginal Peoples

Ever the Land explores the sublime bond between people and their land through a landmark architectural undertaking by one of New Zealand's most passionately independent Maori tribes, Ngāi Tūhoe... The new building is the binding character in this observational documentary that immerses us in a culture that is tightly woven into its land and an architecture that is defined by its integrity to it. This is a film about past and future, tradition and modernity. Most of all, though, it's about the grandest hopes—and what it takes to fulfill them.

Josep Lluís Sert was a brilliant, Spanish architect and the first to attain international fame in his country. He was a man of contradictions, a contentious presence –free verse in a world dominated by replicas and serial reproductions. He dared to be an avant-garde architect in his home country, a country ruled under the most absolute of conservatism. His love of art brought him into contact with the likes of Le Corbusier, Picasso, Miró and Chagall.
