LAW AND JUSTICE

The Pokot people come from north-west Kenya and a part of Uganda. Proud and fiercely independent, the Pokot are bearers of an ancient culture with some well-entrenched rituals. Female genital mutilation, a rite of passage into womanhood, is one of them. This film presents a collection of testimonies of those who confront this tradition. Of those who fight it and, more often, those who suffer its consequences.

Now, in contradiction to these theories, scientific studies carried out over recent decades show that the placebo effect can result in physiological changes.
