• Version: « Charles Burnett and the L.A. Rebellion (VF) »

[DVDA196-026] 1 x 52 minutes | 2019 | $DVD A: 235/ — $DVD B: 90/

Cat: Cinema and Film Arts, Social Issues

Charles Burnett is an eminent figure of the « Black Independent Movement » during the sixties. His dual identity, as Afro-American and independent filmmaker, makes his work rare and valuable, revealing the shortcomings of American society, unequal and divided. A subtle and powerful storyteller, he describes the lives and dreams of Afro-American families, mixing culture and politics in his own unique way...

ALEXANDRE DUMAS, THE FLAMBOYANT

• Version: « Alexandre Dumas, le flamboyant »

[DVDA269-011 A] 1 x 52 minutes | 2020 | $DVD A: 235/ — $DVD B: 90/

Cat: Biography, French Literature

Alexandre Dumas is one of the most prolific authors of the 19th century. With a great sense of romance and action, he was at the centre of a writing workshop producing true sagas at an almost frenetic rhythm. Reinventing French history, he was a real show-runner, instilling energy in his characters and situations, often inspired by his own life. Between fiction and reality, this documentary recounts the life of a Renaissance Epicurean lost in the 19th century, an author who made generations of readers dream of his Musketeers who are now part of the common heritage of humanity.

• Version: « Billy Graham, le pasteur de l'Amérique »

[DVDA269-012] 1 x 52 minutes | 2020 | $DVD A: 235/ — $DVD B: 90/

Cat: Biography, Religion, United States

.4

Billy Graham: a name, a figure, a charisma. As a "super-star" pastor, a gatherer of thousands of faithful, a pro in communication through his "televangelizations", he aroused curiosity, questioning, and sometimes controversy. Billy Graham, The One and Only focuses on the «geopolitics of religion»: why are the interactions between religion and politics so strong in America? What links unite Protestantism and capitalism? Why in a Western context of separation of powers and secularization do these links persist.

Cat: Careers and Professions, Industry and Commerce, Workers and Unions

Through 12 international profiles selected according to their activity and embodying current issues, Humans at Work examines the professional world today and explores questions related to the changing nature of work and its consequences in the future. In a society that is going through an economic, social and climatic crisis, certain sectors of activity are destined to undergo major changes. In this context, does the precariat (contraction of precariousness and proletariat) embody the emergence of a new social class? Are the unskilled workers likely to disappear? What reality will the working immigrant population face?...

• Version: «Les aventuriers du travail nomade »

[DVDA296-016] 1 x 52 minutes | 2019 | $DVD A: 235/ — $DVD B: 90/

Cat: Careers and Professions, Industry and Commerce, Workers and Unions

Employees without a fixed desk, teleworkers, self-employed, freelancers, ... they are the new face of a deep mutation in the world of work, of a burgeoning phenomenon, that of distance working, outside the walls of the company. A work revolution that makes some people dream and frightens others. Some see this as a new key to happiness but others perceive this as a new form of alienation, where the border between professional and personal life does not exist anymore, where the rhythm and the pressure are increasing, and where isolation can have heavy consequences.

[DVDA296-S02-05] 1 x 52 minutes | 2021 | $DVD A: 235/ — $DVD B: 90/

Cat: Sustainable Development, Natural Resources

Sand is all around us. It's the main ingredient for concrete and we use it to build our houses and city infrastructures. It's the second most exploited natural resource ahead of oil and natural gas. While it seems to be an infinite resource, only a small portion of the sand on our planet is exploitable. Beaches and Rivers are being harnessed with devastating impacts on the environment. With the help of geologists, engineers and nature advocates, we explain why sand is such an important part of our lives and how we can protect this valuable resource.

Cat: Contemporary History, Conflicts and Resolutions, Geopolitics, Latin America

Castro saw in Kennedy the only president who believed in coexistence between socialists and capitalists. Yet, we know of the complex relationship the revolutionary had with the United States, crystallised in Cuba by the nationalisation of its commercial interests, which triggered the American embargo and invasion of the Bay of Pigs, the first American military defeat. This documentary aims to establish the links between the past and present through images of Cuba frozen in its eternal embargo, and look back at Cuban-American history from 1963 to the present day, through the vision of a journalist who would go on to become a renowned reporter...

[DVDA196-029] 1 x 52 minutes | 2020 | $DVD A: 235/ — $DVD B: 90/
Cat: Contemporary History, Conflicts and Resolutions, Africa

Thirty years after the civil war, as the first signs of a major economic crisis emerged and the country was ravaged by corruption scandals, the Lebanese people began the most important revolutionary upsurge in their history. Up to 2 million Lebanese took to the streets to denounce a corrupt, inept, clientelist political class responsible for the deep economic crisis into which the country was sinking. All over the country, the Lebanese were demonstrating without distinction of religion or community. "One, one, one! The Lebanese people are one". For a year, from the very first night of the revolution to the explosion in the port of Beirut, the film follows this unprecedented revolt. From Beirut to Baalbek via Tripoli, the destiny of these revolutionaries though at odds with each other, were united by the revolution...

Cat: Global Politics, Europe

For his very first European Council as President in December 2019, ambitious Charles Michel, the former Prime Minister of Belgium, wants to hit hard. He suggests that the twenty-seven-member council commit to making Europe the first climate-neutral continent on the planet by 2050. Many of the Member States are willing to back the proposal, but Poland, 80% dependent on coal, is blocking the decision and demanding significant financial assistance, but after a seduction operation in Warsaw to prepare for the negotiations, the President of the European Council feels confident for his first big test. But nothing will go as planned ... Although he looks shy, Polish Prime Minister Mateusz Morawiecki proves to be a formidable negotiator.

• Version: « PMA-GPA, les enfants ont la parole »

[DVDA196-027] 1 x 70 minutes | 2020 | $DVD A: 235/ — $DVD B: 90/

Cat: Children and Youth, Family, Sexual Diversity, Social Issues

In the past, as moral values have changed, documentaries have recorded the words of children of divorced parents, children of homosexual parents, children brought up in single-parent families... So many different models that, with time, have become "commonplace" and no longer raise questions... Who are these "new" children, these "pioneer" children? What is their vision of their atypical situation? How do they talk about this "particularity" with those around them? With their parents? Their friends? With the "outside world" in general? What do they know of how they were conceived? What were they told? How were they told? What questions remain unanswered? How do they see their future? At a time when a new style of parenting is trying to find its place in our society, this film aims to be a forum for those most concerned: those children who, today, are writing the first pages of this new account.
